This year's runner-up institutions in the NCAA Division III include: Emory University (GA), Middlebury (VT) College, The College of New Jersey and the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point.

Of the 430 eligible colleges and universities in the NCAA Division III, a total of 283 (66 percent) scored points in the United States Sports Academy Directors' Cup competition. Complete final rankings on all of these institutions are available on NACDA's Web site at www.nacda.com.

NACDA, which is now in its 39th year, is the professional and educational association for more than 6,100 college athletics directors, associates, assistants and conference commissioners at more than 1,600 institutions throughout the United States, Mexico and Canada. Through its series of management seminars, clinics and workshops and publication of the bi-monthly magazine Athletics Administration, NACDA offers educational opportunities to its members. More than 1,200 athletics administrators annually attend the NACDA Convention.
